Holiday Hazards Decorations Cause Many Fatal Fires

"Fires across the nation have killed 23 persons, most of them children, on the eve of the Christmas holiday celebration."

"All but 10 of the fire victims were children eagerly awaiting the excitement and gifts of Christmas."

That was last year. Will it happen again this year?

And the saddest thing is that such tragedies often occur around the Christmas holiday—sometimes even around the Christmas tree itself—at the happiest time of the year.

The reason the tree burns so fiercely and so rapidly is because it's filled with pitch and resin—among the most combustible substances known.

What can you do about the tree?

First of all, the National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests that you select a small one. There will be 30,000,000 on the market. Some 4,000,000 Christmas trees reach retail outlets in New York State alone.

It's best to keep the tree outdoors until a few days before setting it up. During that time occasionally throw water over it. This will keep it moist, fresh.

When you bring the tree inside, cut the butt slantwise to open the pores, then stand it in a tub of water. Be wary of chemicals or other substances sold for "fireproofing" trees. In some cases this process is ineffective.

In placing the tree, the National Board advises that you avoid "hot spots" such as those near the fireplace, stove, television set, radiator, or electric bulbs.

Never, warns the National Board, use untreated paper ornaments or untreated cotton batting or gauze for decoration. Cotton and gauze can be made flame-resistant by dipping in a gallon of water mixed with nine ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid.

Also, use only electric lights, never candles. Be sure, too, that wires are in good condition and bear the UL tag denoting Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., which shows they have been tested for safety. Frayed electric cords, the National Board points out, are a fire hazard.

The switch for turning on the tree lights should be placed some distance from the tree. Never use an outlet or plug under the tree or run electric trains around the base.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Kid's Learned to "Take Charge"

I was down at Buck Benson's the other day when a fellow came in with a six-year-old boy — obviously his son.

While the fellow was looking over some stuff on the counter, Buck handed a free peppermint stick to the boy, who promptly tore off the wrapper and went to work on it.

The father seemed quite put out about his son's lack of manners and held up his hand to stop him. "What do we say when Mr. Benson gives us something?" he demanded. "Charge it," replied the kid without hesitation.

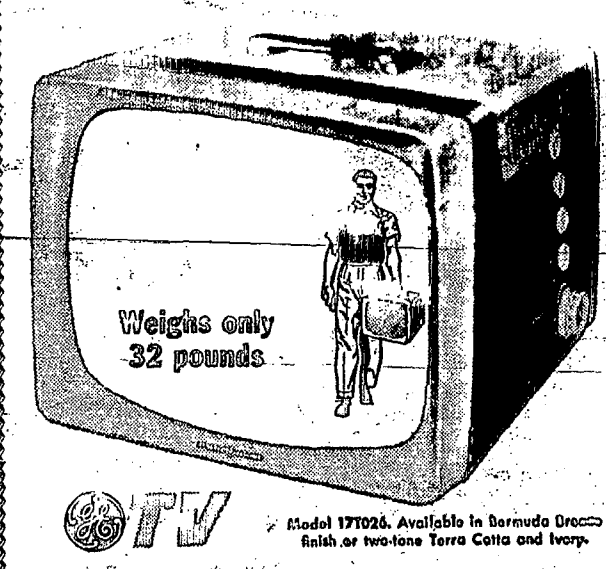

From where I sit, children aren't the only ones who "repeat things" without knowing what they're talking about. For instance, I'm convinced that many of those who speak out against the old American custom of enjoying a glass of beer after work are just parroting what they've heard others say. It's better to get the facts — then make up our own minds — and permit our neighbors to do the same.

The Ticket Splitters . . .

It is obvious to anyone studying the election returns whether in Michigan or nation-wide that the "ticket splitters" are in control of the "voice of the people".

In talking to folks who worked on election boards both in the City of Grayling and in the townships, we found that about one-third of the ballots were split. Of course, a great deal of this was caused by the fact that one incumbent County official was running on the Democratic ticket while the remaining county office seekers were on the Republican ticket.

However, this practice of splitting of tickets is not confined to Crawford County or even to Michigan but is occurring on a national scale. Michigan has been plagued with it for the past ten years while on a national basis it seems to be growing and growing. Carried to extremes it could sound the death knell to political parties as we have known them.

This splitting also caused a great deal of confusion in the capitals, both at Lansing and Washington. You have an administration from one party and the legislative body controlled by the other. Many people feel this is a good thing as one keeps a check on the other. This is true, but it is also true that this type of a governmental set up usually ends in a deadlock and progress goes out the window.

In Lansing where the Republicans control the Senate and the House and Governor Williams and his associates, the Administrative Board, the people can look forward to two years of name calling and very, very little good, progressive government action. Governor Williams will veto the efforts of the Legislature and they in turn will bury in committee Soapy's socialistic ideas.

In Washington, President Eisenhower is faced with a future that is a little brighter. Many, or we should say most, of the Southern Democrats are of a conservative nature. They usually see things nearer to the same light as the Republicans than the so-called Northern liberal or New Deal Democrats. President Eisenhower can expect that many of his proposed laws will pass with a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats voting to support them.

We believe that this type of situation was foreseen by our forefathers when they made it impossible to split the ticket between President and Vice President. Can you picture Ike and Estes getting along together or Adlai and Dick? Of course, it would be an impossible situation. But so is the one in Lansing and Washington at the present time. Better think twice before you split up the responsibility of your government. If one party is elected to head the administration at the capitol and that party is also in control of the legislative bodies, who can take credit for progress and who must take the responsibility for the "boo-boo's"? The party in power, of course. Now with our "split-power" politics, everyone is running around ninety per cent of the time blaming the other party for halting progress and for any general foul up.

To split your ticket is your privilege and no one can take it from you. However, it is a good thing to point out just what may occur from your action. — R. W. S.

Forty men began work on CWA project No. 1 in Crawford County Wednesday morning, which is at the Winter Sports park. Approval of the project was announced last Thursday and a brief announcement passed on to our readers. About $4,900 will be spent on the park for improvements and expansion. Among the features listed will be clearing a large space of ground directly at the entrance of the park for parking purposes. A circuitous driveway will be provided that will provide an entrance for autos to circle the parking area with an exit back on to trunkline M-83. The present skating rink will be reconstructed into a hockey rink and from that skating lanes will lead to a round skating rink a few rods to the east. A number of new and improved jumps will be built to accommodate all desires from the juvenile to the professional skier. The bobsled track will be improved and extended and will no doubt become one of the big attractions. A new enclosed, toboggan track will replace the present open-air affair and provide comfort from the elements whenever it may be desired. These are a few of the new and improved projects that will be provided at this time thru the assistance of the CWA. Alex Atkinson is in charge of the work as superintendent and his many years of experience in that work is an assurance that the job will be well done.

Good Citizens and Railroads

OF ALL forms of transportation only the railroads and the pipelines fully pay their way.

The railroads build and maintain their own roadways and terminal facilities.

They have spent millions in the construction of bridges to meet the requirements of waterway navigation, and without charge by competing barge lines.

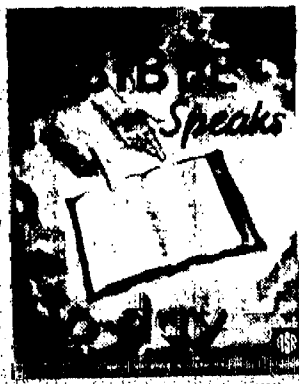

Unpaid millions of their taxes have gone into the construction and maintenance of highways used by their competitors, the trucks and buses.

They have repaid the Federal Government many times over in reduced passenger, freight and mail rates for the land grants of the 1860s-1890s.

They have repaid practically all loans from the Government and full interest on such loans and these from private investors.

And hundreds of millions of their taxes help support federal, state and local governments, help maintain military establishments and schools, and all other governmental activities.
